

receptors include residences, schools, playgrounds, child care centers, athletic facilities, long-term health care facilities, rehabilitation centers, convalescent centers, and retirement homes.

As shown in Figure 4.2-3, sensitive receptors within one-quarter mile (1,320 feet) of the project site include the following:

- LAUSD South Gate Community Adult School on the project site
- Single-family homes located approximately 100 feet to the north
- Single-family homes located approximately 150 feet to the east
- South Gate Educational Center located